We selected the services of DIB to install a TV and DVD/VCR system into one of our class rooms because Simon Alder, the sales consultant, was very professional and efficient with the supply of competitive quotes. He was also willing to further tailor the quote to suit specific needs and included a follow up on the job to ensure we were satisfied with the finished product.

The job was executed with the consideration of the school's daily operations and was also flexible in order to cater for specific needs. James Ridd, the technician who completed the installation was punctual, kept us informed of progress, and new exactly what needed to be done. The installation has been successful, improving our resources, and we would recommend the service of DIB to others searching for AV installations.
