We recently approached D.I.B Australia for consultation on an Interactive Whiteboard installation after having looked at what they could provide on their website. We decided to go ahead with their quote based on its competitiveness and the company's reliability and resourcefulness. Throughout the process I dealt mostly with Sales Consultant Scott Watkins who was very professional, understanding and flexible. I was very happy with his efforts. The technicians' expertise was above expectation, providing realistic solutions with the current structure in mind. I have since recommended D.I.B services to other schools requiring similar works.
